Sellers Guide

The simple process of selling a home:

Step One: Pre-market consultation

First impressions count. I've seen many properties, and am uniquely skilled in helping sellers understand what they can do to properly prepare their home for sale.

Step Two: Learn your home's true value

Get help in establishing the right asking price based on numbers and facts. Asking too much might ultimately be more costly than asking too little for your property. Our professionally prepared Comparative Market Analysis is available at no charge or obligation.
